Federal regulations require that one of these statements or one similar to it is published prior to the beginning of each school year. The school district must publish the aforementioned information in the local township newspaper. If the local town does not have a newspaper publication, the district must use its own newsletter/newspaper and student handbooks in order to ensure that this information is disseminated. It is recommended (but not required by law) that in addition, a comprehensive statement of nondiscrimination be placed on all school district publications such as employment forms and handbooks.
